Frazier, of the First District, from the Treasury Department, being regulations respecting appeals to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, under section 18 of the act of July 13, 1868:—

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF INTERNAL REVENUE: WASHINGTON, June 15, 1807.—Section 19 of the act of July 18, 1806, provides that "No suit shall be maintained in any court for the recovery of any tax alleged to have been erromeously or illegally assessed or collected, until appeal shall have been duly made to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, according to the provisions of law in that regard, and the regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury established in pursuace thereof, and a decision of said Commissioner be had thereon, unless said suit shall be brought within six months from the time of said decision, or within six months from the time this act takes effect: Provided, That if said decision shall be delayed more than six months from the date of said appeal, then said suit may be brought at any time within twelve menths from the date of such appeal; and no suit for the purpose of restraining the assessment or collection of tax shall be maintained in any court."

Section 44 of the act of June 20, 1364 provides "that the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, subject to regulations prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury, shall be and is hereby authorized on appeal to him n ade, to remit, refund and pay back all tares circonocusly or lilegally assessed or collected, all penatites collected without authority, and all taxes that shall appear to be unjustly assessed or excessive in amount, or in any manner wrongfully collected."

The mode of making appeals under the last quoted section is regulated by Circuiar No. 21.

Under the foregoing provisions, appeals may be made—

nade—
1. From the decision of an assessor, when the person feels aggrieved by the assessment. This appeal may be presented on form No. 47, for the abatement of the tax.

2. For refunding, on Form 46, under section 44, above may be presented on form No. 47, for the abatement of the tax.

2. For refunding, on Form 46, under section 24, above referred to.

In either case the applicant should specify the date of the assessment, if monthly, for what mouth or months; if annual, the year or part of year for which the assessment was made; the subject-matter upon which the assessment was imposed; and, in cases for refunding, the date of payment. Then the claimant should give a clear and concise statement of the facts upon which he bases his application. When he refers to correspondence with the Office of Internal Revenue, the date and subject of the letters should be given, with the name of the writer, if to the office, or of the person addressed, if from the office, to facilitate the finding of the correspondence or copies of all such letters, or the originals, may be furnished, when in the power of the applicant.

Claims for abatement, on Form 47, must be certified to by the Assistant Assessor, who made the assessment, and the Assessor and Collector will certify thereto on Form 48.

In claims for refunding, the certificates of all those officers are required on Form No. 46. Before certifying, it is expected that each officer will personally and carefully examine the case, and certify from personal knowledge of the truth of the statement, or belief of the same based upon satisfactory evidence. Should an officer disagree with the applicant as to the facts, it is no reason why he should decline to make any certificate; but it is his duty to aid this officer by presenting what he knows or believes to be the facts of the case. It is not desirable that any one should be driven into the courts of law for a redress of their grievances; and, whether the amount claimed be farge or small, it is important that a just decision be made, which cannot be done without a full knowledge of these facts.

When the application is properly prepared, the Collector will forward it to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, as required by Circular No. 21.

LEAGUE ISLAND - AN IRON-CLAD NAVY AT REST.—We give below the names of the various iron-clads now lying in ordinary at League Island. Afloat, and in close proximity to each other in what is termed the back channel, are the Squando, Nansett, Waxsum, Tunxis, Co-hoes, Suncook, Yazoo, Koku, Catskill, Lehigh, Passaic, Nantucket, and the Saugamon, each a single-turreted monitor, some of which spoke in thunder tones during the late war, while others just witnessed their own completion when the strife had ceased. In addition to these there are three torpedo boats, the Nawbuc, Medoc, and Nafu; three wooden gunboats, the Metacomet, Chenango, and Sassacus, which fully realized its title by its persistent impu-dence to Rebels; the Boxer, a Rebel blockade-runner; and the Hornet, an iron vessel caprunner; and the Hornet, an iron vessel captured from the Rebels, and the one which was taken through the United States fleet directly after her capture, by command of President Lincoln. Lying side by side, and fastened to the pier which projects into the Delaware, are the four following:—St. Louis, receiving ship; Dictator, the famous iron-clad double-turreted monitor; Atlanta, the captured Rebel ram; and Mingo, wooden gunboat.

The officers having charge of the League Island Station are as follows:—Commodore, O. S. Gilsson; Commander, J. M. Rausom; Commander, E. W. Henry; Acting Engineer, J. McElwell; Paymaster, A. Burtis, Jr.; Assistant Surgeon, William J. Simmons; Acting Volun-

Surgeon, William J. Simmons; Acting Volunteer Lieutenant, G. W. Rodgers; Acting Mas-ters, J. E. Moran, C. Ackley, John B. Cook; En-signs, William Curlen, F. H. Wheat, L. R. Chesters, J. E. Moran, C. An Incident .- Officers Tyson and Henderson AN INCIDENT.—Officers Tyson and Henderson were at a certainpawn broker's after goods stolen by the boarding-house thieves De Groot and Hill. While there a little girl came in with a silver cup, two old-fashioned silver salt cellars, silver salt spoon, long watch chain, with locket medallion, and a gold bracelet. Suspicion was aroused in regard to these articles coming throughout such a source, and they were stopped. On examination the salt cellars bore the initials "J. E. T." thereon. The silver cup "F-s H-t, from her father, April II, 1855." and the spoons were marked "G. W. M." Note was taken of this; inquiry was made of Police Clerk Bulkley at the Central Station as to whether there was any record of stolen property of the

Bulkley at the Central Station as to whether there was any record of stolen property of the kind on the books.

Mr. Bulkley being quite familiar with the initials offixed to the silver cup, and sending a note to the gentleman whom he presumed was its owner, discovered this to be the fact; and also learned that the cup had been stolen at Fredericksburg, Va., along with other valuables, at the time General Burnside's army was there encamped. The woman sending them to the pawnbroker's states that they were given her by a soldier named Rosch, who was god-father to her child, etc., and from the best information to be obtained, was at the city from which the goods were taken. We need hardly add, that the lest mementoes of a deceased little one were warmly welcomed back again, though in this roundabout way.

TENTH NATIONAL SENGERFEST-THE GREAT MUSICAL CONVOCATION. — The preparations necessitated by the reception of such a vast concourse of singers as will come off some time concourse of singers as will come off some time during the coming month—which occurrence is putting our own singing societies, like all others of note in the country, on the quevive—are fast nearing completion. The Honorary Committee, selected to act with the General Committee, selected to act with the General Committee of this gigantic fete, will hold another session on Thesday evening next, at the Sengerbund Hall, Callowhill street, for the purpose of electing a President. Among the gentlemen on this committee are Generals Meade, Cadwalader, Lyle, Major Camblos, Messrs Horstmann and Drexet, District Attorney Mann, A. D. Jessup, Charles Magarge, Theodore Vetterlein, J. THE HANGOCK GIRLS' GRAMMAR SCHOOL EN-THE HANOOCK GIRLS' GRAMMAR SCHOOL EXTERTAINMENT.—The young ladles of this public institution lately gave an entertainment—on Tuesday evening last—which was replete with intellectual pleasure. Addresses, readings, and the like, representing all the meritorious attainments of this school for their culture, interspersed with singing and sweet music, were the order of the evening's programme. So well did it meet and satisfy all who saw and heard, that by a special request of pupils, parents, and those who at the previous entertainment were unable to attend, the young ladles will repeat substantially the same programme entire tonight at Musical Fund Hall. We wish them a errowded house and abundant success.

On a Strike.-We learn that a large majority of the employes in the various cotton and woollen mills, twelve in number, at Manayunk, woollen mills, twelve in number, at Manayunk, have made a strike, and stopped work on Saturday night. The cause, as alleged, is that their wages have been reduced twenty-five per cent, which reduction they can in nowise allow; while the employers hold that, in the present condition of goods and prices, it is an impossibility for them to pay the rates lately given.

Fire.-About half-past 10 o'clock last evening a fire broke ont in the smoke house of S. Harding & Co., situated at Front and Tasker atreets A portion of the roof was burned on, and about $10 worth of smoked fish destroyed. The whole loss will not exceed $200, which is fully covered by insprance in the Royal. fully covered by insurance in the Royal.

ALL ABOUT A HAT .- An event happened yesterday which set forth how certain parties having escaped, by running, the dangers of the frying pan, deliberately walked into the fire. Yesterday afternoon a German lawyer, named Geiss, was taking his case in a dwelling near Geiss, was taking his case in a dwelling hear Girard avenue and Eleventh street, which had for its front an inviting salcon. While thus enjoying himself, four Irishmen, named James Darral, Robert Laird, James Sloan, and John McIlhenny, came in, and in a spirit at once malicious and disorderly, concocted a plan to rob Mr. Geiss of his "tile," then upon his head. It was snatched, and away went all four. A friend of Mr. Geiss immediately gave chase, and coming up with one of them anatched his hat, which proved not to have been the one stolen. which proved not to have been the one stolen. The pursued called a policeman, and the pursuer was arrested for larceny and taken to the Twelfth District Station House. While there the officers brought in two men—the two first mentioned—in a high state of mental ebullition, and being recognized as part of the quar-tette who had stolen the hat, were locked up. Soon afterwards the two latter called around to inform the police that the two men in duress were not drunk, but all right. This was not proven, since Mr. Geiss, being present, identified the two arrested, with the others, for stenling. Alderman Fitch held each in $500 bail to

A Large Swindling Operation—$25,000 Involved.—Julius Bemgartin, a merahant doing business in this city, was before Recorder Eneu this morning, charged with obtaining about $25,000 worth of dry goods, notions, etc., from merchants in Baltimore, by false and fraudulent representations. He visited that city, and by representing that his credit was good, and that he was in good standing as a business man in this city, he obtained possession of the goods, and retailed them out at less than cost. He also obtained a large quantity of goods from parties in this city, who, discovering his sharp practice, had him arrested and taken before Judge Hare; but his identity not being fully proven, the parties withdrew proceedings.

In the meantime his Baltimore creditors had obtained a warrant for his arrest from Governor Geary, and immediately upon his release as above stated, Reserve Officer Hess took him into custody, and introduced him to the Recorder. A LARGE SWINDLING OPERATION-$25,000 IN

That gentleman, after it having been satisfactorily proved that the individual was one and the same, as described in the Gover-nor's warrant, delivered him into the custody of the Sheriff of Baltimore, who had come on specially to this city to apprehend him. He was taken to Baltimore this morning.

Ho! FOR THE SEA-SHORE!—Since the hot days of summer scatter our good citizens to all parts of the country—the larger share perhaps to the sea-shore—their interest, economically and otherwise, should be consulted in taking the best route. To "Atlantic City," that "City of the Sea," the general resort of the citizens round about, the Camden and Atlantic Railroad is the shortest and most convenient route, gaining that city in less time than by other ways, it taking but two hours to reach it. The fare to Atlantic City is but two dollars, while for the round trip, up and back, in the same train, however, the tickets can be had for three dollars, at the Philadelphia Local Express Company's Office, No. 625 Chesnut street. This latter company by the way, delivers all manner of baggage to all manner of places in the city in the quickest time and the safest manner. Ho! FOR THE SEA-SHORE !- Since the hot

A YOUTHFUL BURGLAR GORGES HIMSELF WITH STOLEN SWEETS -John Davis, aged sixteen, was found about 11 o'clock on Saturday night was found about 11 o'clock on Saturday night in the candy stall at Sixth and Arch streets, gorging himself with all the delectables therein contained, and swelling his capacious pockets with his flichings of candied sweetmeats and southern fruits. The lock of the stall had been wrenched off, the door opened, his form encased cosily behind it, and there he contented himself pleasantly until an officer, hearing the noise of his crunchings, arrested him. Being searched at the Station, a bunch of keys, suited to unlock all manner of common locks, was found upon him. Alderman Godbou held him in $400 bail to answer.

RECEIVING STOLEN GOODS .- James Coleman, a boy aged sixteen years, was arrested for stealing a lot of old iron and the like, from the Norristown Railroad, on Saturday last. He was taken in custody at Eighth and Thompson, and Alderman Massey held him in $800 bail to answer at Court. Learning that Caspar Welchman and his wife Magdalena had incited him to de this thing and that they received the to do this thing, and that they received the goods he had so wrongfully apprepriated, they were arrested on Saturday night, and bound over by Alderman Fitch in $1000 ball each to STEALING ROPES .- Michael McBride was arrested by an officer of the Sixteenth Police Dis-trict for stealing the ropes which held a number of rafts together, that were floating in the Schuelkill. The ropes were valued at $50, but the damage to the rafts, the parts of which spread themselves all over the river, the boards and logs floating away, caused the great mis-chief. Alderman Maul held McBride to auswer at Court.

FAST DRIVING .- J. B. Hart, not content to run bis horse at a moderate speed, put nim to his mettle, and away he went up and down some of the streets of the Twenty-fourth Ward, up til the vehicle was stopped, and the driver thereof arrested. Alderman Allen, admonishishing the offender to be more circumspect in the future as to his manner of proceeding, CARRYING A SLUNG-SHOT .- John Jones, in CARRYING A SLUNG-SHOT.—John Jones, in company with two other persons, got into some trouble on Saturday night last, in the steam railroad cars, near Manayunk. Being hard pressed, Jones drew a formidable and dangerous-looking slung-shot, and would have caused great damage, had not Officer Rentes, seeing his movement, arrested him. Alderman Ramsdell hald him in $500 bell to answer at Court held him in $500 ball to answer at Court.

AN OLD FRIEND.-For many years the Press of the country has chronicled the beneficial effects of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Editors, authors, physicians, merchants, officers of the army and navy, chemists, counsellors, ministers of the gospel-in short, a great cloud of witnesses of every profession, trade, and calling, have testified to its efficacy as a tonic and regulating medicine. The names and statements of these witnesses have been published in the public prints. Many of them are well known to the whole public. Their testimony has never been challenged or impugned. This OLD FRIEND has been tried, and pronounced, on the authority of those whose lives and health it has preserved, a pure, harmless, and eminently salutary preparation. Attempts have been made to rival it. They have failed. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment experienced by the afflicted when using this valuable specific. Its mild tone, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body, recommend it to the whole community as a RELIABLE FRIEND.

THE GREAT PLAGUE OF HUMANITY IS Scrofula which in all its multiplied forms, whether in that of King's Evil, Enlargement of the Giants or Bones, Gottre, White Swellings, Chronic Rheu-matism, Cancer, Diseases of the Skin or Spine, or of Pulmonary Consumption, emanates from one and the same source, which is a poisonous principle in the human system. Overcome this inherent depravity of the system, and a complete restoration to sound health is possible; for if the cause upon which the disease depends is removed, a cure must of necessity follow, no matter under what form the discase manifests itself. It is because JAYNE'S ALTE-RATIVE is possessed of this peculiar efficacy, RATIVE is possessed of this peculiar efficacy, that it is so generally successful in removing so many malignant diseases; it destroys the virus or principle from which they originate, by entering into the circulation and being carried with the blood to the minutest fibres, driving every particle of disease from the system. The best evidence of this may be found in the testimony of those who have tried it, and whose certificates are given at length in Japue's Medical Almanac, to be had gratis of all agents. THE TRIAL OF JOHN H. SURRATT.

Proceedings To-day.

Washineron, June 2s.—The trial of John H. Surratt was resumed this morning in the Criminal Court. Judge Fisher presiding. The attendance was larger than upon any previous occasion. The jurors came late Court at 10 o'clock, and a few moments after the prisoner was brought in. Amongst the visitors in the court-room was General Grant.

As soon as the Court had been called to order, Judge Fisher read his opinion upon the motion submitted on Saturday by the defense, asking the recall of wilnesses for the purpose of further cross-examination. The opinion refuses to grant the request made by the defense. The defense noted an exception, and Mr. Merrick desired to flie an affidavit bearing upon the same matter, but the counsel for the prosecution objected, and the Court said the affidavit abould have been filed before the opinion was delivered.

Dr. J. F. May was awarn, and examined by Mr. Wil-

the prosecution objected, and the Court said the affidavit abould have been filed before the opinion was delivered.

Dr. J. F. May was aworn, and examined by Mr. Wilson—He knew John Wilkes Booth; and on one occasion, while Booth was playing an engagement here, witness performed a surgical operation upon his neck;
it left an ugly scar; wincess saw the body of Booth afterwards on the menitor at the Navy Yard, a day or two after he was killed; witness identified the body of Booth, and found the scar upon his neck;
the lean had been previously described to the Surgeon General; the operation was performed in Booth's neck, about a year before the assamination of the President; the scar was a very ugly one, because after it had partially healed, it was torn open while Booth was playing on the stage.

John Greenawalt was examined by Mr. Pierrepont
—Witness from 1884 to 1888 kept the Pennsylvanta House, on C street, between Four-and-a-half and sixth street; Atserott boarded at the house, and Booth came there to see him; Booth came several times.

The prisoner was asked to stand up.

The witness recognized the prisoner; he had frequently come to witness' house, but witness could not say when or how often; he recognized the prisoner's face, but could not say when he visited the house. Booth frequently came to see Atzarott; they would have private interviews, and when any one approached them they would move off, Atzarott used to say that he had not much money then, but he was going away, and would return with as much gold as would keep him all his life. Witness who accompanied him. Atzerott then tured to go up stairs, when witness told him he had not registered. Atzerott then registered his name in a hestating manner.

The witness then repeated much of the testimony given at the assassination trial relative to Atzerott's having arms with him at the hotel, etc.

Mr. Bradley noted an exception to the testimony of the last witness, as well as to that of Dr. Hall, as being irrelevanto this case.

In answer to certain questions, witness said the stages for Prince George county, Maryland, started from his house, and that passengers were continually comingland going; the Prince George stage and the Port Tobacco stage both started at the same time.

By Mr. Bradley—Witness did not see Atzerott after he applied for the room at 2 o'clock.

John M. Lloyd was sworn, and examined by Mr. Carrington—I five in the Seventh Ward, in Washington: have lived there since October, 1885; previous to that I fived at Surrattsylle, and kept a tavern there; I moved to Surraitsuile in 1894, and lived there intil October, 1865; I occupied the house of Mary E. Surratt, and was engaged in farming: I have had a short acquaintance with the prisoner, and now recognize him; I rented the house from Mrs. Surratt; have seen Harold and Atzerott; saw them both at my house; about six weeks before the assassination Harold came to my house and stayed all night: the next morning Surratt and Atzerott drove up; half an hour alterwards they were all there together at my house; there were several persons at the house besides them; they came in and took a drink and played cands, and after a while Surratt called me in the parlor, and there if saw two guns and a rope lying on the sofa; there was also there a monkey-wrench: I never examined the articles, and cannot say that I could identify them; the prisoner asked me to conceal the things; I at first refused until he insisted that there would be no danger to me, and then consented to take them; I told him there was no place to conceal such things, and he said he would s

Gen. M. Jeff. Thompson Indorses the Sentiments of Gen. Longstreet.

From the Louisville (Ky.) Journal.

Louisville, Sunday June 16, 1867,—George D. Prentice, Esq.—My Jear Friend:—You desire me to write you my feelings and opinions under the existing political condition of the country. Your friendship to me in the dark days of the late war, while we were political condition of the country. Your friendship to me in the dark days of the late war, while we were politically enemies, gives you the right to command my services in any way that I can fetur your kindness, and therefore I will comply with your request, and in as few words as possible express my present sentiments of Gen. James Longstreet: but Gen. Longstreet was a professional soldier, who fought like a hero, and surrendered like a braye knight who has been unhorsed, and he may not go farenough in his language to place himself right before the war, and only buckled on my sabre to contend for certain "rights" (as was the case with the armies on either side), can go further than General Longstreet, for have resumed my social status, and have not changed my coupation.

Lell you, then, planily, that I never fought the United States not short, the United States he North because I hated the Pulled States. I never fought the North because I hated the North. I did not dealer to be one lots after than I was under the fling of the Union. But there was an abstract political prictiple of State rights, and four thousand millions of dellars' worth of African slaves that I hought could only be saved out of the Union. From the fligs thought of the Union. But there was an abstract political prictiple of State rights, and four thousand millions of dellars' worth of African slaves that I thought could only be saved out of the Union. From the fligs hostile gun fired by John Brown, at Harper's Ferry, until the 5th day of June, 1885, when I surrendered but still proud people. Our was had been no "boy's play." Our surrender was no farce. No political millions and interest and n interest. I can now but repeat what I had occasion to write once before.—"Analogies for the past or promises for the future would indicate a want of confidence in my own integrity. I have simply done what I conceived to be my duty, and I propose to do it now." The Confederate Government wiped out State Rights the first year of its existence—a bloody war wiped out alwary, and wiped out the Confederacy, so they are obsolete ideas; and the plain question now presented is. "Will you accept citizenship under our terms, as contained in this law?" and I emphasically answer "Yea?" Let each and every white man in the South say:—"Abstract ideas or obsolete theories shall not govern me, for I will look facts in the face as they exist, and make the best out of the future, without moping over the past. It is not to be presumed that I shall be asked to composite my bonor, or be false to my friends, for I am compelled to obey the law, and being an elector simply gives me an opportunity to make the laws more lavorable"—then will confidence be restored, and plenty abound once more. Yous, most respectfully,

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS-Judge Plea COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS—Judge Pierce.—The whole morning's session was taken up in the trial of sylvanus, Vanhorn, apon a charge of assault and battery upon Kate Vanhorn. The prosecution alleged that on the 27th of last December, Mrs. Vanhorn went to the defendant's store, in Hutchinson street, near Thirteenth, on business, and without provocation the defendant attacked her and knocked her down.

The defense alleged that the prosecutrix wished to borrow money of the defendant, and was refused. She became angry, and grew abusive and disorderly; he ordered her out, and she spat in his face; then she took hold of him, and he merely pushed her off. Jury covered that the defendant as the person who had prought the defendant as the person who had prought him the defendant is used to the person with the defendant is used as lot of clothing which she had left in defendant's custody, and subsequently discovered that the defendant had pledged them at a pawnbroker's; but the pawnbroker could not identify the defendant as the person who had brought him the goods.

James Rogers was charged with having entered a counting-bouse with intent to steal. Officer Weigand testified that on the night of May 19, about 1 o'clock, he saw the figure of a man waiking into Cahill's counting-bouse. America and Master streets, and he demanded to know who it was. As soon as he spoke the man ran out the back way. He, the officer, ran around into the yard, and in a stone yard in the rear of Cahill's he arrested the defendant; but he could not say he was the man who ran from the counting-house. Verdict not guilty.

Mrs. M. G. Brown, Arch street, above Fourth, was charged with the laccent of a written instrument. The testimony produced by the Commonwealth was to the effect that Gopsill's City Directory sent to the Local Express Company an order for a page of advertising to collect of Mrs. Brown. The Local Express sent Mrs. Brown the order by one of their employes.

Ent the delt was not valid and one of the averus for ployes.

But the debt was not paid, and one of the agents for Grospell's Directory, called at the Express office in reference to the matter; and was handed an envelope containing some papers the agent knew nothing about, which, he was told, Mrs. Brown had sent. She denied ever having given the order or having received it.

defined ever having given the order or having re-ceived it.

The detense alleged that at the time the employe of the Local Express delivered the order, Mrs. Brown, a female physician, was attending to a patient. The order was received by other members of the family and when it was discovered that the advertising had not been done according to contract, Mrs. Brown re-used to see it. ased to see it. It was handed back to the man, who by mistake put some loose papers into the envelope instead of the order. Some time afterwards the same order was found among some of Mrs. Brown's waste papers. Verdict not guilty.

Trial of John H. Sur att.

Continued from the Third Edition. Mr. Carrington asked the witness if I is saw Mrs. Surratt before the assassination?

Witness said he did not wish to go into an examination of Mrs. Surratt, as she was not here and he would not answer unless compelled to do a o by the Court.

The Court instructed the witness to answer.

The witness resumed and said: "On the Ta. "sday before the assassination, he met Mrs. Surrat at the Union town; she was in a buggy with a young in an whom I afterwards understood to be Welchman. Mrs. Surrat told me to have the shooting irons ready, as they would be called for soon; I told Mrs. Surrat that the house was going to be searched, and did not wish to have the things there; the converse ties then turned upon John Surratt and I said; I understand that the soldiers were after him forgoing to Bichmond; Mrs. Surratt laughed heartily at the idea, and said a man must be a smart one to go to Bichmond and back in air hours; that was about all that was said at that time; I was at Mariboro on April 14, 1835, and when I returned home at 6 o'clock I saw a number of persons there, and among them Mrs. Surratt; when I drove up, Mrs. Sorratt came to meet me, and handed me a nackage, and told me to have the guns ready and two betties of whisky, and to give them to whoever should call for them inhat night. Mrs. Surratt and Welchman left before dark. The package handed me contained a field glass. Attwelve o'clock that night Harold came to my house and a person was with him. I do not know the size of the person was with him. I do not know the size of the person was with him. I do not know the size of the person was with him. Ar. Carrington said he proposed to show that it was Booth.

The Court said it was proper then to show first that it was Booth.

The witness resumed, and said he thought Harold rode a bay home, and the other a grey horse. Harold took a drink and went out, and the witness supposes the other man took a drink.

Question—Had you heard of the assassination of President Lincoln then?

Mr. Hradley said the drift of this was to get out what Booth said.

Judge Fisher—It must first be shown that Booth was there. All that the other man said in the hearing of Harold was evidence.

The witness resumed, and said he was then asked if a doctor was near, and the other man talked about the assassination; Harold was then across at the stables.

Question—When did you first hear of the assassi-nation?

Mr. Bradley objected if it was in the course of that

Mr. Bradley objected if it was in the course of that conversation.

The witness was disinclined to answer the question, and Judge Fisher said the witness could answer when ne first heard of the assassination.

The witness said he first heard of it that night. The witness said he first heard of it that night. The witness could not distinctly recollect, but he understood Booth to say that he or they had killed the President. The witness thinks that Secretary Seward's name was also mentioned. The carbines vore uncovered by Harold, and the witness noticed something peculiar about the locks.

Witness was here asked to retire temporarily from the stand, and General E. D. Townsend was called to the stand, and produced a field glass and a breastpin. The glass was turned over to the witness in August, 1:63, by General Eckert, Assistant Secretary of War, when he was about retiring from office: the witness received the glass as Adjulant General of the army; it was never ont of his possession except June 17, when it was given to Colonel Conger, and returned to witness; witness does not know Colonel Conger officially.

John M. Lloyd was then recalled, and examined the ally.
John M. Lioyd was then recalled, and examined the John M. Lloyd was then recalled, and examined the field glass, but could not fully recognize it as the one that was handed to him by Mrs. Surratt. He thought the glasses he saw had larger letters upon them. Witness was also shown the carbinest and thought the one was the same as the one Harold took the cover off. Recegnized it by the peculiarity of the lock. The other carbine was taken away by the detectives. Have not seen the cartridge box since it was taken away by Harold.

The court at 12 20 took a recess for half an hour.
